New Workers Compensation Options for Arizona Employers

THE REALITY: INCREASED WORKERS' COMPENSATION RATES

For the first time in nearly 15 years, average Workers' Compensation rates for Arizona employers increased first in October 2006, again in October 2007, and once more in October of 2008.

To manage the escalating cost of your Workers' Compensation policy, employers should carefully consider alternative insurance carriers.

DETERMINING YOUR WORKERS' COMPENSATION COSTS:

Unlike General Liability, Property, or other coverages, Workers' Compensation rates are predetermined by the National Council of Compensation Insurance (NCCI). All carriers, including SCF of Arizona, use NCCI rates. Pricing discounts are determined by:

1. Credits applied to policies at the election of insurance carriers. Currently, these credits range from 0% to 40%, depending on the insurance carrier and the operations conducted by the insured company.

2. For policyholders paying in excess of $3,000 annual premium, NCCI will assign an Experience Modification Factor, which starts at 1.0. This factor is then applied to your premium, providing either a discount (for companies with historically low losses) or a debit.

WHAT WORKERS' COMPENSATION COVERS:

Workers' Compensation insurance policies provide coverage to an injured employee in a number of ways:

1. Medical Coverage. Pays on behalf of the injured employee all direct costs associated with medical treatment, including the costs paid to treating physicians and hospital care.
2. Rehabilitation Coverage. Pays on behalf of injured employee costs of rehabilitation.
3. Disability Coverage. Pays lost wages, as a percentage of income, that result from an injured employee's inability to work.
4. Death Coverage. Pays surviving minor children and spouse a death benefit in the event an employee's death arises during the course of his or her employment.
